Website Disclaimer:

U.S. Government Required Disclaimer - Stocks, ETFs, mutual funds, commodities, bonds, futures, options and any securities trading has large potential rewards, but also large potential risk. You must be aware of the risks and be willing to accept them in order to invest in the securities markets. Do not risk capital you cannot afford to completely lose. This website is neither a solicitation nor an offer to Buy/Sell and security. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses similar to those discussed on this website. The past performance of any trading system or methodology is not necessarily indicative of future results.

Notices About Trading

Trader Tactics and its personnel are not registered broker-dealers or investment advisers. You are encouraged to speak with licensed broker-dealers, investment advisers or counselors of your choice regarding the appropriateness of investing or of any particular investment strategy or security. Trader Tactics products are for informational and educational purposes only, and no mention of a particular security in any Trader Tactics product constitutes a recommendation to buy, sell, or hold that or any other security, or that any particular security, portfolio of securities, transaction or investment strategy is suitable for any specific person. None of the information providers (e.g., instructors or sales persons or customer service representatives) or their affiliates will advise you personally concerning the nature, potential, value or suitability of any particular security, portfolio of securities, transaction, investment strategy or other matter. To the extent any of the information contained in any Trader Tactics product may be deemed to be investment advice, it is impersonal and not tailored to the individual investment needs of any specific person.

Trader Tactics personnel (e.g., instructors, contributing authors, content developers, etc) are not subject to trading restrictions. Trader Tactics personnel could have a position in a security or initiate a position in a security at any time. In the event you enter into trading transactions, Trader Tactics personnel also may be trading or have positions in the same securities.

Trader Tactics products contain opinions about securities, and the opinions differ. For example, an opinion about a security in a certain Trader Tactics publication could differ from an opinion about the same security that is in another Trader Tactics publication. As another example, two instructors could have different views about the same security or factors affecting that security (such as market events).

All investments and trading involve risk. Trading and investing subjects you to risk of losses, including losses greater than your original investment. Many strategies, investments and securities (including options) are not suitable for everyone. Trader Tactics does not determine whether any strategy, investment or security is suitable for any individual.

Particularly with respect to options, prior to buying or selling an option, an investor must receive a copy of Characteristics and Risks of Standardized Options, called the Options Disclosure Document (ODD). This document is available from your broker-dealer or may be downloaded directly from The Options Clearing Corporation.

No one should trade with money they cannot afford to lose. As such Trader Tactics directs all participants to practice trading with virtual, or fake funds. Trader Tactics in no way encourages individuals to place real money on any particular trade. Such decisions and any transaction related to such decision is at the sole discretion of the individual placing the trade.

I understand that neither Trader Tactics, my participation in the Newsletters or courses therein, nor any brokerage firm at which I open a trading account can or will offer me assurance that my trading will result in profits. I UNDERSTAND THAT ANY CAPITAL I ALLOCATE TO TRADING DURING OR AFTER TAKING ANY TRADER TACTICS PROGRAM MAY BE LOST IN ITS ENTIRETY. I understand that I will be taught how to invest or trade short term in some cases on an intra-day basis, use of trading software and the data it displays but will not be given specific recommendations as to particular financial instruments to trade at particular times. All trading done by me during or after taking any course OR NEWSLETTER, will be determined by me alone and will be at my own risk.

The articles, videos, and other information on this website is intended for guidance purposes only. This website is neither a solicitation nor an offer to Buy/Sell and security. No representation is being made that any account will or is likely to achieve profits or losses like those discussed on this website. The past performance of any trading strategies, systems or methodology is not necessarily indicative of future results.

Past results are not indicative of future performance.

Where hypothetical or simulated examples are provided, because they do not represent actual trading, they have limitations. They are designed with hindsight and thus, can be biased to select favorable performance results. Also, since the trades have not been executed, the results may have under or over compensated for certain factors such as the lack of market liquidity. Examples of trades and investment strategies do not include the costs of commissions, interest and dividends and other expenses. Keep in mind that these costs affect whether an investment is profitable.
